To Whom it may concern

It's November and the team of South Nahanni Outfitters Ltd. can look back at another successful season in the mountains again. As local communities and businesses along the Mackenzie River play a very important role in this, we would like to thank all of you who took part in it.

Numerous times harvested game meat was flown to local communities and distributed by the band members to the people. The pick up at the airports were well coordinated and we hope that these contributions will be enjoyed very much.

Looking forward we also encourage you to get in touch with us to let us know if there are any concerns or observations which you would like to express. For communication, our contact info is listed here:
