INTRODUCTION

Since 1983 the officers of Silver Bear Mines Inc. (the 'Company' or 'Silver Bear') and their predecessor companies, Silver Hart Mines and Solid Resources Ltd., have conducted mineral exploration work on their Bear property near Sunrise Lake. This work has included: survey grid line cutting; geological, geochemical and geophysical surveying; and several phases of diamond drilling.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT PROCESS

Historical Community Engagement

Community engagement for this project began on April 21, 2009 when Solid Resources Ltd., then owner of the Property, entered into an Exploration Agreement with the Yellowknives Dene First Nation. This agreement outlined the responsibilities of each party for the advancement of the Bear project and the protection of the Yellowknives Dene traditional lands and rights.

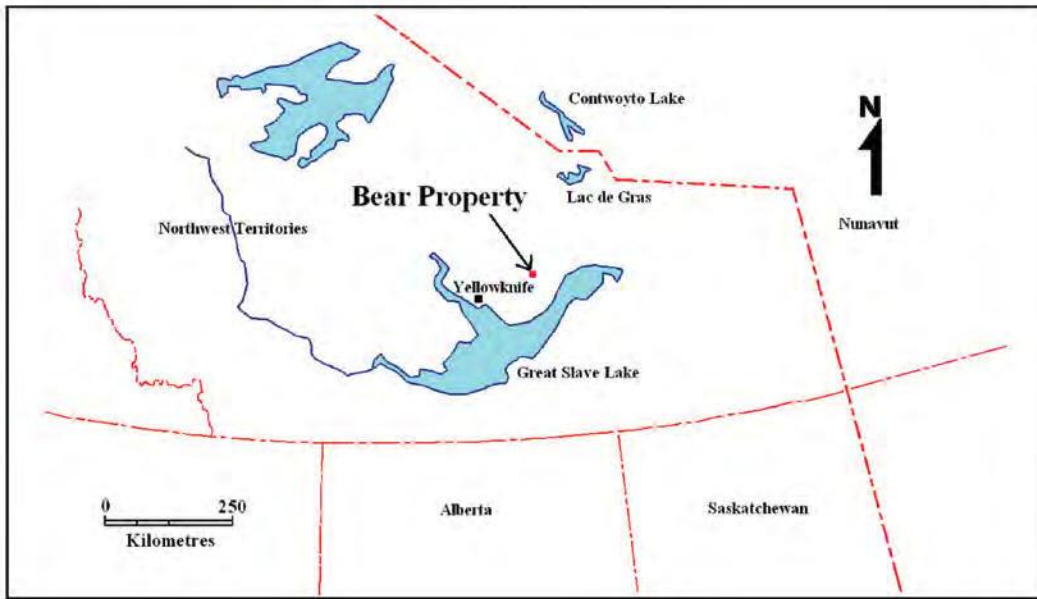

Current Community Engagement

Silver Bear Mines continued the community engagement process with government and community groups in October, 2023 with the delivery of an introductory email to each of six potentially affected parties, including:

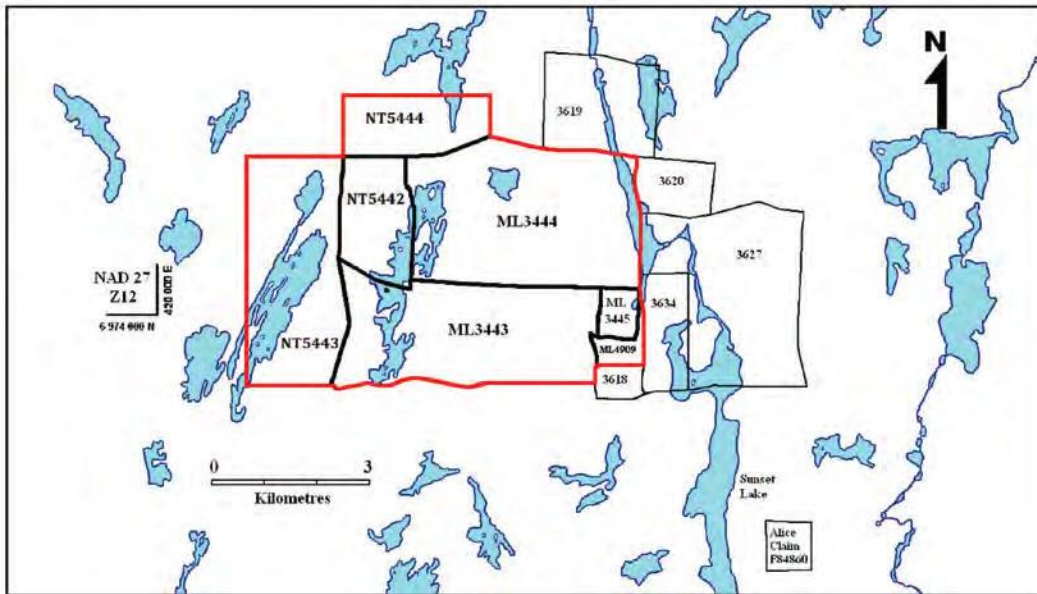

- Akaitcho Screening Board
- Lutsel Ke Dene
- North Slave Metis Alliance
- Northwest Territory Metis Nation
- Tlicho Government
- Yellowknives Dene First Nation

The introductory email outlined the intention of the Company to resume exploration work on the Property. The parties were given the opportunity to raise questions and provide recommendations on the proposed camp reconstruction and winter diamond drilling program with geophysical surveying of the M Zone.

Between October, 2023 and February, 2024 emailed comments from the six parties were received regarding the proposed exploration work for the new Land Use Permit. All questions and recommendations on the proposed field work were considered and responded to by Garnet Harter of Silver Bear Mines Inc.

Future Community Engagement Plan

Upon approval of the Land Use Permit and commencement of the proposed exploration work, Silver Bear Mines Inc. proposes to carry out the following community engagement plans.

- Provide the interested parties with regular progress reports documenting the exploration work;
- Provide the opportunity for representatives of each affected party, should they choose, to visit the project during the ongoing exploration work at the expense of the company;
- Given the winter conditions at the time of the proposed drilling work, the affected parties may also choose to conduct face to face consultation meetings to discuss the progress and results of the ongoing field work; and
- Within 60 days of each field work season the Company would provide the parties with a report documenting the scope and costs of the complete exploration work, number, positions and person-days of indigenous personnel, value of goods and services purchased from the parties, and plans for any future exploration work.
